A truly inclusive event – this one day professional development opportunity will have something for everyone in K-12 education: from the new and experimenting, to the full-time and confident users. In the time of Covid-19, every teacher has become a 'blended educator', which makes this conference very relevant, now more than ever. Technology in the education realm has completely changed the experiences of both educators and students – it is now both our everyday normal, as well as the most powerful tool on the planet. Educators will come together on the October 23rd, PSA day, in our online virtual space, to share their experiences, tools, tricks, tips, and strategies on utilizing and implementing technology into our practice, classrooms, and schools.

Registration includes an engaging, and timely relevant keynote by Trevor MacKenzie, a variety of amazing sessions; one-year membership to the BCEDL PSA (optional add-on for non-BCTF members); access to community and sponsor vendors; door prizes...and so much more!

In partnership with the BCEDL, BlendEdBC, CaneLearn, Navigate NIDES, Comox Valley Schools, and Canvas.
